

Strategies for Environmental Success in an Uncertain Judicial Climate

Table of Contents

CONTRIBUTORS . . . . .	ix
LIST OF ACRONYMS . . . . .	xv
INTRODUCTION
A New Realism About Environmental Law . . . . .	1
Michael Allan Wolf
RESPONDING TO THE COURT’S MISAPPREHENSION OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW MAKING
Chapter I:
The Nature of Environmental Law and the U.S. Supreme Court . . . . .	9
Richard J. Lazarus
Chapter II:
“They Endured”: Mining the Supreme Court’s Serviceable Past . . . . .	41
Michael Allan Wolf
ASSESSING THE CURRENT POLITICAL AND LEGAL QUANDARY
Chapter III:
Conservationists in the Wilderness: The Decline of Environmental Law Making and the Reported

Death of Environmentalism . . . . . 65
Sean H. Donahue

Chapter IV:
Think Less Like a Mountain, and More
Like a Realist. . . . . 115
Paul Boudreaux

CONFRONTING NEW REGULATORY STRATEGIES

Chapter V:
Regulatory Underkill in an Era of Anti-Environmental Majorities. . . . . 141
William W. Buzbee

Chapter VI:
Securing Judicial Review of Agency Inaction (and Action)
in the Wake of *Norton v. Southern Utah Wilderness
Alliance* . . . . . 163
Robert L. Glicksman

Chapter VII:
Following the Court Off-Road in *Norton v. Southern Utah
Wilderness Alliance* . . . . . 215
Alyson C. Flournoy

RECONSIDERING THE NATURE OF FEDERALISM

Chapter VIII: Federalism’s Values in Programs to Protect the Environment . . . . . 247
Christopher H. Schroeder

Chapter IX:
Redefining Federalism. . . . . 259
Douglas T. Kendall

FOSTERING STATE EXPERIMENTATION

Chapter X:
State-Based Alternatives for Protecting Wildlife . . . . . 307
Susan George

Chapter XI:
Cooperative Federalism and the Endangered Species Act—Is There Hope for Something More? . . . . . 325
J.B. Ruhl

REACTING TO A CHANGING LITIGATION LANDSCAPE

Chapter XII:
Thoughts on the Role of the Government Lawyer as Amicus Curiae . . . . . 339
Donald W. Stever

Chapter XIII:
Crouching Textualist, Hidden Intentionalist: Reclaiming Our Stolen “Green Destiny” Out of the Judicial Sparring Over the Interpretation of Environmental Statutes . . . 347
Mary Jane Angelo